

Mystical Fellowship the Science of Christliness: A Catholic Eirenicon From the Exponents of the Mystical Gospel of Brotherliness (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Mystical Fellowship the Science of Christliness: A Catholic Eirenicon From the Exponents of the Mystical Gospel of Brotherliness During the Middle Ages the Gleam of Christ lay hid in the implicit brotherliness of mens Catholicity, a brotherliness which was taken for granted by every one as the air which men daily breathed. To-day the earth clamours for brotherliness again, as the earth once clamoured for its Emanuel. But these two cries are really the same cry, since those who now pray for brotherliness are prophets, and true prophets, of the Mystical Return of Christ. The Mystical Gospel of Fellowship taught in these pages in the written words of the Saints of Christ, although they were written long ago, yet bring us instinctively not into any past world, but into the good world of the future which is descending out of Heaven from God. They contain, in effect, gleams from that Catholicity of the ages, which no new happenings of this or that century shall ever leave behind. Contrasted with the raging controversies of the hour, they present us with a great affirmative view of God and Man; while these controversies them selves present us with but negations of brotherliness.
